

Engineers Week encourages you to “Dream Big” this year

Midterms are upon us, so that can only mean one thing, it’s Engineers Week!

This week is an opportunity for you to celebrate your current journey into the world of engineering. This is also a time to raise awareness about engineering and getting the next generation of engineers excited about pursuing a career in the engineering field.

There are a variety of ways you can choose to participate in E-Week events. Check out the E-Week schedule at UIC. You can also check out E-Week on the web and learn about the Dream Big: Engineering Our World theme.
