

INTERVIEWING CRASH COURSE

Since many UIC engineering students have been invited back for interviews at this point in their job searches, we thought you might need a refresher on interviewing!

Preparation and Practice are two of the most important things you can do. Before an interview, don't worry about perfecting your resume; your resume helped get you to the interview! Now is your chance to move beyond what's on the resume and show employers what you're truly capable of!

Check out our previous issues about:

How to prepare for an interview & How to use the STAR method to answer tough interview questions. Also, check out the ECC website on Interviewing to learn about the types of interviews, preparing for technical interviews, and what to do before, during and after an interview. There are also practice questions included to help you start preparing your answers and tips on what kind of questions to ask the interviewer.

Preparation = Confidence!

EMPLOYER SPOTLIGHT

FOURSQUARE

Foursquare is building up its Chicago office with a new software engineering team! They're currently recruiting for internships and full-time jobs in Chicago, New York, and San Francisco. Stop by their tech talk on Wednesday to hear about how this social network has revamped their products using their proprietary location data! Now that they're in the advertising game, they've switched from being a consumer app to an enterprise platform and have a lot to show for it. Much has changed within Foursquare since its founding in 2009, but with consistently increasing revenue over the past few years, they are one of the hot companies to watch this year.
